Interact Club members Megan Dowling, Aileen Dolen, Emma Dowden, Ben Tiedtke, owner of Village Pizza in Red Hook and major project contributor, Carl Dowden, Red Hook Rotary advisor to the Interact Club, and Annmarie Carey, Interact Club member. Doug Strawinski, Recreation Commission Chair, and John Kuhn, Recreation Park Director, also attended the dedication.

The baseball scoreboard is a wirelessly remote controlled electronic scoreboard manufactured by Daktronics. The fifteen foot four-inch galvanized poles were donated by the Taconic State Park Commission and installed by the Recreation Park staff. David Vosburgh dug the trench for the conduit, and Bob McCarthy wired the scoreboard.

The scoreboard with its wireless controller is available for use by the JV and varsity high school teams, junior league and senior league teams, MHAL and Section IX teams, local and district tournament teams, and for local and family groups.

INTERACT CLUB

Interact is Rotary International's service club for young people ages 14 to 18. Interact clubs are sponsored by individual Rotary clubs, which provide support and guidance, but they are self-governing and self-supporting.

Club membership varies greatly. Clubs can be single gender or mixed, large or small. They can draw from the student body of a single school or from two or more schools in the same community.

Each year, Interact clubs complete at least two community service projects, one of which furthers international understanding and goodwill. Through these efforts, Interactors develop a network of friendships with local and overseas clubs and learn the importance of

- Developing leadership skills and personal integrity
- Demonstrating helpfulness and respect for others
- Understanding the value of individual responsibility and hard work
- Advancing international understanding and goodwill

As one of the most significant and fastest-growing programs of Rotary service, with more than 10,700 clubs in 109 countries and geographical areas, Interact has become a worldwide phenomenon. Almost 200,000 young people are involved in Interact.
